Filling up the Fuel Forms.

For the moment, the most important step to be taken in meeting the coal difficulty, next to the actual saving of fuel and light, is to get the rationing scheme completed.

Keighley's Welcome of the Welfare Exhibition

The people of Keighley have given to the infant welfare exhibition, which has visited the town this week the best kind of welcome.

Mr. Robert Clough's Interesting Project.

It is fitting that Mr. Robert Clough should preside at the opening of the exhibition, for it is largely to his activities that Keighley owes its infant welfare organisations, which have done so much good work in the borough.

Local Appeals for the King's Fund.

The letter of Mr. Hodge, which appeared in our column a fortnight ago, gave a sufficient explanation of the appeal for an ample fund for restarting disabled soldiers and sailors in civil life.

The Uniform Tram Fare Lure.

It is to be hoped that the respite from a 15s. wage advance to the women tramway employees indicated by Mr. Albert Smith at last week's meeting of the Keighley Town Council, will be taken advantage of by the Tramways Committee to reconsider as due the rearrangement of tram charges, and that, as a result, some alternative may be found to the three-halfpenny uniform fare proposal.

An Alternative Suggestion.

It may be questioned, however, if it would continue to be the most "suitable" in the event of circumstances necessitating an advance to such a sum as 15s. for a through ride.

Electricity Uncertainties.

While touching on tramway matters, the committee, it may be hinted, might very well give consideration to a few other matters before raising.

were about to start operations, and a good deal of inconvenience and loss must have been occasioned. If there were anything in the old superstition, the ears of the electricity chairman and committee ought to have been burning very uncomfortably during that hour or so, for they certainly came in for a very liberal share of uncomplimentary remarks from many hundreds of disappointed individuals.

The Needs of the Cadet Movement.

Now that a lead has been given in the re-organisation of the Craven Cadets it is to be hoped that all who can do so will come forward to help and lend a hand in putting the scheme on a sound working basis.

Revived Hopes of a Haworth Institute.

So the Haworth Institute project is not quite dead. It is something to have such an assurance; though after the deferred hopes and repeated disappointments of the last fifteen—or is it twenty-five or more—years, there are some people who will find it difficult to be other than sceptical of Haworth's ability to reinstate sufficient life into it to bring an institute into actual being.

An Aurora Borealis Story.

A pithy little aurora borealis story was given in "The Yorkshire Observer" recently, as follows:—Some Aboard a British warship at a certain base. Bill—A "hostility fowl"—had arrived that afternoon to experience the glories of active service for the first time.

An Old-Time Game Recalled.

MR. R. CLOUGH AND REDUCTION OF THE MORTALITY RATE.

A three days' child welfare and health exhibition arranged under the joint auspices of the National Union of Women Workers and the Keighley Infant's Aid Society was opened on Wednesday in the Keighley Municipal Hall.

SUGGESTED INTERESTING REUNION.

Wednesday's proceedings were opened by the Mayor, Mr. W. J. Butterfield, under the presidency of Mr. Robert Clough.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE WORK.

He hoped the holding of this exhibition would stimulate in the minds of the people a sense of the welfare of their children.

OAKWORTH AS A PATTERN.

He did not know the lowest figure which it could be hoped to be realised, but the infant mortality rate had been reduced to 22 per thousand.

With your permission I beg to offer an opinion on the matter of local interest. According to reports in the press the Town Council have granted to the new Tramways Committee to increase the fares to 1/6d. from 1/3d. to 1/6d. on the 1st of October.

KEIGHLEY AND THE CADET SCHEME.

GEN. MENDS ON THE OBJECTS OF THE MOVEMENT.

THE MAKING OF GOOD CITIZENS.

For the purpose of forwarding the cadet movement in the Keighley district and affording information as to the reorganization scheme for the year 1919, a meeting called by the Mayor of Keighley (Mr. F. W. L. Butterfield) was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening.

AN APPEAL TO EMPLOYERS.

The encouragement of the movement, continued Mr. Turner, ought to commend itself especially to employers of labour and others at home, not only as a matter of policy and morale, but as an act of patriotism to the father who was serving at the front and were therefore unable to give to their children the direction and supervision which was so essential.

OBJECTS OF CADET TRAINING.

General Mends referred in glowing terms to the part of the West Riding battalions in France, and expressed pride in the fact that he had the honour to be honorary colonel to the Leeds Rifles, and that the object of the movement was not a military one, but to develop the moral, mental, and physical qualities of the youth of the nation.

GIVING BOYS AN INTEREST.

It is the duty of the cadet movement, Mr. Mends said, to give to the boys a sense of purpose and to give them a chance to show their initiative and to give them a chance to show their initiative and to give them a chance to show their initiative.

"I am even yet enjoying the good health this splendid kidney medicine restored."

Mr. W. Stephenson, 19, Murchison Street, Scarborough, made the above statement on December 19th, 1917, after suffering his kidney trouble since 1899.

CONCERNING THE COMFORT OF YOUR HOME. There are two kinds of furniture, or, in the words of the sage, there is "furniture, and furniture"—meaning the satisfactory kind as distinguished from the unsatisfactory.

Furniture is very largely bought upon faith—the trust you have in the man who sells it to you—because you never know how well or how ill furniture is going to turn out until you have lived with it for some time. In this respect furniture is very much like a wife.

Therefore when you are about to buy some furniture—go to a place which you know keeps the satisfactory kind—go to a man who lives amongst you, one whom you know by reputation.

We have gained a high reputation for the satisfactory qualities of our furniture—we are here—you can rely upon our word, bond, guarantee. If you want comfort, sound solid satisfaction, and furniture just as sound and solid, pay an early visit to our Show Rooms.

Home comfort, as we understand it and the kind you will appreciate, is not so much a matter of expense, or arrangement of high-priced furniture, as of wise selection, therefore turn your footsteps right here when furnishing the happy little home.

We give Best Value for cash if you have it, and Lowest Terms for credit if you want it.

You know the firm, it's The West Riding Furnishing Company, Ltd. (Late KEIGHLEY FURNISHING COMPANY).
